

Problem Statement

Problem Statement:

Many USC students struggle to find social events and activities that they would be interested in. This app would help them be more engaged in student activities and find people who have the same interests as them.

What is the problem?

- Bored people need stuff to do/people who are having trouble filter through all the events available.

Who is experiencing the problem?

- Students attending USC

Where does the problem present itself?

- USC Campus

Why does it matter?

- College students have plenty of free time, especially on the weekends.
- College students struggle to make friends and be social
- Will help boost attendance to events related to school spirit
